

50 Years Ago In Elba

The stockholders of the Elba Power Company held their annual meeting in the court house Friday afternoon with a large percentage present. Officers were elected as follows: President, W. B. Wise, vice-president, M. S. Carmichael, secretary, B. D. Armstrong, treasurer, Y. W. Rainer, directors, W. B. Wise, B. W. Page, Y. W. Rainer, W. B. Perdrie and A. D. Donaldson. The compensation of the officers was fixed, reports were made and a dividend of $1.00 per share was declared. The meeting was held to consider floating bonds for completing the company's plant. By unanimous vote, the stockholders authorized the issuance of $15,000 of 8 per cent first mortgage gold bonds. B. Dixon Armstrong, who has been employed to sell the bonds, stated that he had started already the negotiation of the bonds and thought they could be advantageously placed. He left Monday for New York City to sell the bonds. It is thought that he will not only be able to sell the bonds but also be able to locate several factories at Elba to utilize the power.

New-Found Ore Deposits Rich In Vital Titanium

LOS ANGELES—Large deposits of iron ore, much of it rich in titanium, have been revealed by drilling in southeastern Wyoming.

Probing of near-surface deposits prior to 1933, indicated the existence of some 175,000,000 tons of ore. Further drilling by Union Pacific geologists last year is now estimated to have added 50,000,000 tons to the total.

Part of the ore has been found to average 46 per cent iron and 19 per cent titanium, along with about 1 per cent vanadium. Although much of the material is of lower grade, the titanium-bearing deposits may prove to be the largest of their type in the United States.

Titanium is twice as strong as aluminum and only 56 per cent as heavy as steel. But its great value is its ability to withstand the extreme heat of combustion and air friction—which explains why it is essential to the building of jet aircraft. Principal source of the tough metal now is a black rutile sand brought from Australia. Ingot titanium costs $5 a pound and three times that amount after being processed into sheets. Only about 2,000 tons of titanium were extracted in 1933. A government program is being set up for expansion of production, with a goal of 35,000 tons a year by 1942.

The iron-titanium deposits, in an area of some 250 square miles, surround a major ore body on Iron Mountain, 25 miles northeast of Lamar.

U. S. Recorded Top Population in 1953

NEW YORK—The United States recorded the largest annual population gain in its history during 1953, with an increase of more than 2,700,000 persons.

In the past eight years the population has increased by more than 10 million, just prior to 1946 it took 17 years to produce an increase of this size. Statistics are quick to point out that this recent population gain exceeds by one third the entire population of Canada.

Practically every age group has contributed to recent population growth, but, naturally, preschool children show the largest gain. Since 1940, the number of children under 15 has increased by about two thirds, compared with a rise of one fifth in the total population. These youngsters now constitute 11 per cent of the population, compared with 8 per cent in 1940.

The people at ages 65 and over have increased by nearly 10 per cent since 1940, and now total about 13 1/2 million, or more than 8 per cent of the population.

Petty Name Is Held Injurious to Morale

WASHINGTON—It may sound petty to some, but Representative Matthews (D., Fla.) thinks Navy petty officers should be called something else to improve their morale.

Matthews told the House: "I've talked with them and they do not like the name, petty." He says he has written to Defense Secretary Wilson about the change.

Matthews, an infantry captain in World War II, said the petty officer is the backbone of the Navy, just as the sergeant is the backbone of the Army.

"The dictionary defines petty as small in nature, trifling, mean, or ungenerous, inferior, etc.," he said. "Surely we can think of a better word."

Eat All You Wish; Fear Not Overweight

CHICAGO—One in every four persons in the United States is courting an early death by being overweight.

That is the latest report from the medical profession, which adds, however, that public knowledge of this fact is leading the average citizen to do something about it.

All types of claims are made by various concerns and by diet specialists for food items that can be eaten by anyone that will not allow excess fat to accumulate.

Now making this claim is the tuna industry. Tuna spokesmen say you can eat all you want and at the same time, ward off that excess poundage.

Impatience Costly

RALEIGH, N.C.—Impatience is sometimes very costly. It was in the case of George Dixon, 19, since it cost him his legal release from prison.

While prison officials were awaiting arrival of communication papers which would reduce Dixon's sentence to time served and make it possible to free him, he escaped.

He was serving a two-year sentence for forcible trespass. Four hours after he escaped he might have walked out a free man.

BANANA PROSPECTS GOOD

Jimmie Foley planted a banana tree close to the north window of the probate value year before last. Never was a baby more tenderly nurtured and the plant grew prolifically until never produced any fruit the first two years.

Last fall Jimmy covered the tree with a box and sacks to protect it from the cold. It wintered nicely and this spring it grew to be about ten feet tall. Each new leaf was reported to Harold English, deputy clerk in the probate office.

One day last week Jimmy espied Harold coming across the square and he called out, "Harold, come here quick; a bunch of bananas is starting on my tree." Mr. English hurried over to investigate and sure enough, a tiny bulb about the size of one's thumb had made its appearance in the top of the tree. It has grown rapidly and is now about a foot long.

Indications are now that a full-grown bunch of bananas will develop on Jimmy's tree as there should be plenty of warm weather ahead for the fruit to mature.

ELBA MASONIC LODGE

The Elba Masonic Lodge held its regular meeting Sunday at a good attendance. Secretary William Kendrick announced that the annual election of officers will be held on the third Saturday in June. Mr. Kendrick has served as secretary since 1941, besides holding the post for a number of years at another time.

The Elba Masonic Lodge is recognized as one of the oldest in Alabama, having a membership of 363. Five years ago it combined with the City of Elba in erecting a municipal lodge building. Recently the room was replaced at a cost of about $1400.

With good attendance, Secretary set for Friday night, June 12. The lodge meets twice a month the first Saturday forenoon and the third Friday night.

Flourary Whitman cooked the fish for the Lions Club when they met at the Municipal Park recently. He also made some excellent punch punches. Leann Harris can be seen rounding the corner of the fireplace at the Elba Hotel, on his way back for another helping. Robert Cannon, Stokes Haire and Dr. E. M. Warr are leaving with their fella folk. 12-Year-Old Joe Ed Donaldson Keeps 120-Acre Farm Going Twelve-year-old Joe Ed Donaldson does most of the plowing, planting and cultivating on the 120-acre farm in Bradshaw county while his father is out selling Farm Bureau Insurance. Three generations of the Donaldson family have lived on the place pictured last week as he mows the grass.

Young Joe Ed has his hands full looking after the 120 acres that make up his father's farm. Forty acres are in corn land. This year there is no cotton but 35 acres are in peanuts and 50 in corn. There is some land in pasture and 15 acres of permanent pasture.

Method of tilling the soil is a new tractor that Ed bought this year for his son. Conservation practices followed by the Donaldson family include 400 to 500 pounds of fertilizer on row crops and lime and 0-14-14 on the pasture. Eventually he will put the very best land on his farm will be pasture, Mr. Donaldson said. Light now he has 20 head of cattle which include 11 brood cows and a purchased Angus bull.

At the present time the Donaldson family have lived on the place for about 120 years. Mr. Donaldson said he had plenty for his cows to eat on the pasture. During the winter he supplements their feed with hogs. Hogs are purchased at the sale barn when the fields have waste in them that needs cleaning up. As soon as the hogs clean up the fields, they are sold.

Figuring that taxes are just as high on that acre of land not producing anything, as they are on the fields where something is growing, Mr. Donaldson tries to make every bit of land on his place pay its own way.

Family history of the Donaldson on this particular farm can be traced back to about 1880. At that time Ed's grandfather moved onto the "live. He located his house where Frank Cowart, a colored man, told him there would be a good well. Cowart used a water wheel and pointed out the site of the old home seen in last week's picture at the left. A round well was dug where Cowart suggested but it never did prove too satisfactory. Ed Donaldson said.

GRANDFATHER CLEARED IT
Grandfather Donaldson cleared all the land that there is on the farm and died there in 1913. His wife lived until 1919, never moving from the place. Whether or not they secured the original homestead title was not known by Ed.

"Uncle Jeff" Donaldson moved onto the farm about 1915. He purchased it when the farm was divided to settle the estate and lived there about five years. At that time he sold to his brother, Fred who lived there a year. Ed's father, Joe Donaldson, bought the farm then and Ed moved there in 1943.

All the buildings except the old house have been erected on the farm since that time. A new house was built 30 months ago.

Council Votes $10,000 for School Repairs

A $10,000 bond issue for the city board of education, told the council Monday night, so repairs can be made on the white and colored schools in Elba. Main entrance to the white school is painting the Mulberry Heights building and repairing the floors in the high school.

James Wise, chairman of the city board of education, told the council that T. M. Stroud and D. B. Addison had estimated repairs and painting would cost about $10,000.

Mayor L. P. Mullins said it would be impossible for the city to raise this money out of present revenue and still keep up all the programs now going. He specifically mentioned recreation and garbage collection.

The council then voted to get money through a bond issue.

The mayor was authorized to order 200 feet of drainage pipe. One hundred feet will be used in front of the Baptist Mission to give them more parking facilities, 50 feet by Ice Blackmon's to improve drainage there and 50 feet in New Town.

Doc Parker, chief of police, reported the police car needed a motor overhaul or should be traded in. The council authorized the mayor to ask for bids on a new police car. Dorsey Chevrolet, Cannon Motors and Paul Whitman Motors will be asked for bids.

The question of dancing for teenagers at the swimming pool was brought up. A place for dancing is available but the council did not give the necessary permission. During the discussion, it was brought out that Alex Strickland, city patrolman, is normally on duty at the pool and concession stand during the hours it is in operation.

City Recreation Program in Full Swing

TWO EXCITING GAMES
Two exciting softball games were played Tuesday night. The first game resulted in a victory for the High School team and required two extra innings to decide.

It was a pitchers' duel between Billy Poole for the High School and John Milton Wise for the Church Club. In the seventh inning the High School batters went on a rampage and chased over four runs. The Church batters came right back to tally three runs but couldn't beat the count again.

The second contest was a wild and woolly exhibition of heavy hitting and many fielding bores, interspersed with good fielding plays. The Jaycees were ahead of Dorsey 20-11 when the smoke of battle cleared away.

A feature of the second game was the right field play of Representative Bill Stokes who made a sparkling running catch of a long fly at a crucial moment. It made up for several misjudged previous efforts. He also threw a perfect 3 run home run and one run scored.

LITTLE BASEBALL LEAGUE
Some close contests have developed this season in Little League Baseball as the Jimmy Hudson team has taken over the league lead with a perfect 3 win record. Second in the standings is the Carl Nelson nine with a 2 win, 1 loss slate. The Tom Dyes Team has won 1, lost 1 while Royce Hudson's team has lost all three of its games.

The 11th won over the 9th in a one-sided contest but the second game was close, the 12th finally beating the 11th in a tally and taking a 12-11 victory.

Heavy hitting was the feature of both games, home runs, triples and doubles being frequently. League games will be played on Monday nights at 7 and 8 o'clock. Coach Pearson is directing the play and improving the games.

Official Count Increases Conner's Margin

The official canvass of votes in the June 1 primary election made by the County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday night increased the unofficial margin of Ben Conner's victory in the tax collector race from 7 to 17 and increased his margin in the race for sheriff from 104 to 109.

E. O. Griswold in the state representative contest by 342 votes.

The official count showed B. F. Conner receiving 2786 votes and Doc Littleton 2769 for tax collector. In checking the unofficial returns against the official, the discrepancy of ten votes seemed to have occurred in Beat 7, Box 2. The official count showed Conner with 35 and Littleton with 78. On the unofficial tabulation Conner received 25 and Littleton 78.

The race for state offices showed Coffee County support. Patterson 2009 over Porter 1766 for county general; Hurt Beat 6-2; over McBrady 1847 for secretary; Beat 6-4; over McBrady 1847 for secretary; Beat 6-4; over McBrady 1847 for secretary.

CROP'S SUFFERING
Reports from most sections of Coffee County state that crops, especially corn, are suffering from lack of moisture.

F. F. Clark stated that he went to his farm in Brooklyn community Sunday afternoon and the corn was suffering badly. This was the first time the fishermen went on their merry way.

New York State Says It Makes Most Everything

ALBANY, N. Y.—You name it, and the chance are some firm in New York State makes it. A study of the "Industrial Directory of New York State" reveals that virtually every known industry in the United States is represented somewhere in the state by at least one business concern.

The seven types of industries not found in the directory are ones which would not ordinarily be located in the state for climatic or economic reasons. Among them are tobacco-stemming and cotton seed oil mills, beet sugar, bee-hive evaporation, and food briquets, the latter a product of the waste from large soft coal mining operations. The gum naval stores industry, which flourishes in the state when the sailing ships ruled the high seas, is no longer represented among its industries. The remaining category unrepresented in the state is "special sawmill products."

The diversity of products made by state industries range from abacuses and acetates to xylophones, zinc and zithers, and include such items as commodities, feed bags, escalators, glass, hydrogen, locomotives, photometers, pocket motors, blinding, washing machines and wire, all the way down to Zwickback.

The directory lists over 7,000 products made by the 50,000 firms included in its pages.

Benefit Plans Hurt Older Folks More
MINNEAPOLIS—Employees' retirement pension plans and other benefits—these much praised programs for workers' security developed in the past thirty years—are the biggest barriers to the older job-seeker in his search for employment, according to a survey made by a life insurance agency. Although the survey revealed encouraging improvement in placement of older workers during the past year, the 125 agencies reporting named pension programs and other employee benefits the chief obstacle to the employment of older people. Plain arithmetic provides the answer. With retirement pensions beginning usually at 65, it takes four times as large a contribution per year by both employer and employee to build the same size pension fund if the employee starts with a firm at age 50 as is necessary if he starts at age 25. Insurance losses are much heavier on older people, as costs go up unless average levels are held down.

Some firms attempt to solve the problem by allowing older applicants to waive pensions and other privileges, but then encounter considerable dissatisfaction when those employees reach retirement age and cannot claim the same benefits they see their fellow employees receiving. Most firms which have employee benefit programs—which means most of the big concerns—simply refuse to hire older applicants and the bulk of the job employment agencies find for older applicants are with small concerns.

Soviets Rewrite Books To Omit the Executed
MOSCOW—The Soviets are rewriting their history books. The State Scientific Publishing House, while distributing its 21st and latest volume of the New Soviet Encyclopedia, sent along a four-page substitution for the article in Volume 3 on Lavrenty P. Beria, former secret-police chief executed for treason.

A notice accompanying the substitution said:
"To the subscribers of the Large Soviet Encyclopedia:
The State Scientific Publishing House of the Large Soviet Encyclopedia recommends that Pages 21, 22, 23, and 24 be removed from Volume 3, as well as the portrait of Beria between pages 22 and 23, to replace which the pages of a new text are enclosed.

The aforementioned pages should be cut out with scissors or blade, leaving inside margin on which the new pages can be pasted."

The substitute pages: an illustrated article on the Bering Sea.

He Paid Taxes
PALMI CALABRO, Sicily—Rocco Galdo felt he couldn't afford to pay the tax this year on his dog, so he took the animal across by ferry to the mainland and left him there.
When he arrived home, Rocco found the dog waiting at his door, dripping wet. The animal apparently had swum the treacherous Strait of Messina, 2 1/2 miles wide, in two days. It was the first time of Homer.
Rocco relented and dug up the money to pay the tax.

New York State Says It Makes Most Everything

ALBANY, N. Y.—You name it, and the chance are some firm in New York State makes it. A study of the "Industrial Directory of New York State" reveals that virtually every known industry in the United States is represented somewhere in the state by at least one business concern.

The seven types of industries not found in the directory are ones which would not ordinarily be located in the state for climatic or economic reasons. Among them are tobacco-stemming and cotton seed oil mills, beet sugar, bee-hive evaporation, and food briquets, the latter a product of the waste from large soft coal mining operations. The gum naval stores industry, which flourishes in the state when the sailing ships ruled the high seas, is no longer represented among its industries. The remaining category unrepresented in the state is "special sawmill products."

The diversity of products made by state industries range from abacuses and acetates to xylophones, zinc and zithers, and include such items as commodities, feed bags, escalators, glass, hydrogen, locomotives, photometers, pocket motors, blinding, washing machines and wire, all the way down to Zwickback.
